opecial to the Star.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 9.—The Reception Commit ce, which will meet Grant at Logansport, left here at 7:30 a.m. The city is gaily decorated in bunting and banners, and although the day broke dark and gloomy there are streaks of sunlight at this hour and a prospect for fair weather.

Hon. John. C. New has received a dispatch saying that Sheridan was sick, and would likely not be here.

The following is the official pragramme: The distinguished party will arrive and join the procession at Noble and Washington streets at 2:30 p. m.

The procession will reach the Grand Hotel about 3:45, when the reception speech will take place on the Illinois-street bal-

At 5 p. m. General Grant will be driven to Hon. John C. New's.

At 8 p. m. a general public reception will be held in the Court-house, the callers entering at the west doors and passing through the Court-horse to the east.

At 9:30 the party will withdraw, and at 9:45 leave the Court-house for Roberts Park Church to attend the special military concert given in their honor; thence to Hou. John C. New's and Grand Hotel for the

At the depot there was but a small crowd to see the General off, owing to the early hour and inclement weather. The General stood on the rear end of his coach and as the train moved out lifted his hat to those behind, who shouted bon voyage. Postmaster Tyner is expected to join the party before reaching Indianapolis. The first stop of any importance will be made at Logausport, where lunch will be taken and an informal reception held for an hour. There it is expected they will be met by the In-dianapolis Reception Committee, headed by Hon. J. C. New, Gen. McConter, General Kneffler, Judge Gresham, Hon. E. P. Mar-

MURDERED IN THE WOODS. TERRE HAUTE, Dec. 9.-While hunting one day last week, near Charleston, Coles County, Ill., some difficulty occurred between Thomas Grant and a boy named Charles, brother of James Cook. Yesterday James Cook and Lloyd met Grant in the woods and began a fight, during which Cook was knocked down with an ax by Grant. At this, both drew revolvers, and shots were fired, Lloyd shooting Grant through the lungs, from which he soon died. Lloyd fled, but was arrested at Paris, and he and Cook are now in jail at Charles

HUNTING A WAGON-MAKER. GORBEN, IND., Dec. 9 .- Yesterday about fifty men dragged the canal in search of the body of Alsis Hethinger, the wagonmaker in this city, who was supposed to have committed suicide last Thursday night. He has not been seen since. The search was a failure.

A DOG DETECTIVE. HUMBOLDT, TENN., Dec. 9.-Intelligence from Jackson says that a big dog was seen trotting along the streets of that town, carrying a dead negro infant in his mouth. The infant was evidently murdered, as it bore the mark of a heavy blow across its head. It was in a nude condition, and in an advanced stage of decomposition. Search was made, and the grave found from which the child had been burrowed by the dog. in the yard of a tenement house occupied by Lucy Brooks and Margaret Jordon, both

BRUTAL CASE OF ABDUCTION.

MONTREAL, Dec. 9 .- The evening papers contain a long account of the abduction of Miss Armand Trudeau, adopted daughter of the wealthy landed proprietress, Madame St. Marie, of Standre street, on Saturday night. She was a handsome girl, eighteen ears of age, and had been sent on an er-rand to one of Madame St. Marie's tenants, when three young men, respectably dressed seized her, clapped a plaster over her mout! and applied some drug, which rendered her unconscious. When she regained her conunconscious. When she regained her con-sciousness she was being borne along by a carter in a sleigh, toward Madame St. Marie's house, where she was left four hours after the abduction in a pitiful condition. The girl had been in the habit of collect-ing rent, and one theory is that the object of the fiends was robbery, although there are suspicious of outrage,

Major Reno's Defense.

National Associated Press to the Star. W. McCrary. of Iowa, to be Judge of the Eighth United States Judicial Court of Iowa.

A communication was read from the Postmaster General, asking for an appropriation of $2,000,000 for inland mail service.

Mr. Bayard, from the Committee on Finance, reported back the bil authorizing the issue of $10,000,000 in their cent, bonds to pay arrears of pensions, recommending its indefinite postponement.

Senate went into executive session.

National Associated Press to the Star,
Fr. Maade, Dec. 9,—Major Reno made his argument before the Court-martial years terday. He reviewed the testimony of each witness, taking up each charge. In the first charge of having struck an officer, he said he had been grossly insulted, and was only vindicating his character as an officer and gentleman, and was not drunk. The second charge of having broken a window in a saloon, he explained by saying he was good humoredly drunk. As to the Sturgis Charge, he simply reiterated his testimony
